Q-net Pro 7 Waiting area display with digital signage features

This module is web-based, can be opened in any smart device, usually it is used on LCD TVs. In case of LG TVs its WEB OS contains the Q-net app, which makes possible to use the digital signage functions without any mini PC connected to the LCD TV, it can be directly connected to the server.

This software is managed centrally creating several playlists, contents, zones, profiles etc. and any profile can be selected to any branch, branch groups, etc. The big size files will be downloaded to the dedicated PC-s after office hours to avoid big bandwidth usage.

Main features:

- Displays waiting area display (calling) information of the Q-net Pro queue management system
- Plays video files
- Plays slide shows
- Shows moving text
- Shows RSS feed content
- Shows another HTML webpage
- Easy-to-edit templates
- Displays can be segmented (display groups can be created)
- Media file download from a central point within the WAN or LAN
- Centralized configuration of the opening hours in the branches
- Centralized configuration of the files to be played (playlists)
- Centralized configuration of the time period playing the files (timer)
